Awesome. We are following up on the Haiti trip - not sure when he next goes down, but definitely want to get Hunter down there on one of the next trips.

Guys - great hearing on Haiti today - I sat next to Sean Penn. Kaufman asked point blank questions about clean water and the answers were somewhat predictable. Though, it sounds like they are building lots of little population centers that would be ideal for our "off the grid" solution. It is clear from this hearing that Bill Clinton is THE key player on the recovery and rebuild efforts. Any chance you guys have had any more conversations with his staff about going down there?

Hey, checked with Greg McDonald and he agreed that the best way to follow up on Clinton's trip request is for you to email Doug Band. Is this is OK to send an email from you to Doug? (Very brief - just following up, am very interested if the President would still like me to go, mention Friends of the World Program Board membership, etc.).

I actually will be up in NY this Tuesday the 29th if you are around. In fact, part of the reason I will be up there is for an event for my brother, Beau, that Chris Heinz is hosting at his home in Tribeca. If you would like to come to that, why don't you come as my guest? No need to contribute - I have attached the details. I know Beau would like to see you as well and it should be a fun group.

If that doesn't work maybe we can meet for coffee sometime before the event. I have a few things in and around midtown during the day, but could break away for coffee.

Let me know.

Best,

Hunter

Doug,

Hope you're doing well. I wanted to follow up on a conversation I had with President Clinton when I saw him in Arkansas last month. He expressed interest in me potentially joining him on one of his future trips to Haiti. Should the opportunity still exist, I would love to join him – particularly given my role as a member of the Board of Directors of Friends of the World Food Program. I have been in the loop on their efforts on the ground in the country and it'd be great to see it firsthand. Let me know what you think the best way to follow up is.

Hope to see you soon.

Best, Hunter

My primary objective is to get a date to go to Haiti with BC. If I can get that done than I am fairly certain I can highlight Aqua directly to the source. In the meantime Gary will be a great advocate if he likes it.

They are currently trucking in 1200 gallons/per truck. She can't believe that "You have a water making machine on the ground in Haiti not being used and we have a Cholera issue - Absurd!"

Anyhow, Hunter/Eric: please update Gary Edson - this seems like a great opportunity to get to the $$$$ with an incredibly well known NGO.

Hi Doug,

I am afraid the Haiti team heard bad things from the leadership at the General hospital and has made other arrangements...

That is the decision from our Chief Operating Officer in Haiti so I have to respect that.

I hope you have more luck with Shawn Penn's group!

All the best,

Hi all,

Just got off the phone with Doug Davenport who is the owner of the company that created that machine that was used to take moisture out of the air and make water. Most of us saw it in use in the General hospital after the quake

It is still in Haiti and NOT BEING USED—they would be happy for us to use it as it will give their company visibility:

These are the stats:

Produces 2200 gallons of water per day and runs on about 75 gallons of diesel a day (but can also be plugged into the electrical grid—which we are on in St. Marc right?)

I think we could negotiate who would pay for the fuel—and maybe CBHF could do it...

I would say we should do it unless any of you have reservations about this—and would imagine that setting it up in St. Marc would be the best.

Please let me know ASAP—I may call you Patrick...let me know if you are free.

Had a come to Jesus call with Abe today (with Doug as co-conspirator) and got Abe to agree to do whatever is required to get Manuel a machine, even if it is just as a lease so we could work on the PR within Haiti and gain grassroots support for what this machine can do.

Abe is now on board.
